15 The rural representatives are at present 165 in number. The minimum number for a Taluk being two, the two newly constituted Talukas of Karatapur & Blopet will have to be given the privilege of one. A seat has now to be set apart

Channanapinagar, Hyderabad and Tanjore Taluks appear to be sufficiently important to be given the privilege of returning three instead of two members. But the case of these Taluks alone cannot be considered independently. The present basis of allocation of seats to rural constituencies as a whole may have to be examined if any revision of it is contemplated.

16 As regards urban constituencies, no change in the present allocation seems to be called for. There has been no instance of a Town Municipality having been reduced to a Minor Municipality and ^{there is} no newly constituted Town Municipality which has not already been given the privilege of representation.

17 There is a proposal to increase the number of seats allotted for Depressed Classes ^{in the R.A.} from 2 to 6 & it is now sent for order.

NOTE—Contn. Sheet.

Final Note by the Third Member of Council.

Subject:— Increasing the minimum number of seats in the Representative Assembly guaranteed to the Depressed Classes.

These papers relate to the question of increasing the representation of the Depressed classes in the Representative Assembly. At present, Government have guaranteed three seats in the Assembly to the Depressed Classes.

At the annual District Conference of the Kolar District held on the 20th April last, a resolution was passed to the effect that one member might be nominated to the Representative Assembly from among the Adi-karnatakas of each District and it has been commended by the Deputy Commissioner of the District for the favourable consideration of Government. The present constitution of the Assembly does not however admit of the representation of any community on a territorial basis. Therefore for this reason the resolution cannot be accepted in the form in which it was adopted by the District Conference, the Depressed Classes have a legitimate claim to increased representation, the number of seats, viz. three, now allotted in the Assembly for the various communities grouped under this head being disproportionately small for a population of about 12 lakhs.

When the papers came before me, I recorded the following minute on 6th July last:—

"The representation of Depressed Classes in the R.A. (now practically limited to three) is, in my opinion, quite inadequate. Having regard to their large population, and the special measures necessary to protect and advance their interests, the question of raising their representation to at least six and to not more than eight may, if approved by the Dewan, be kept in view in connection with the next reconstitution of the R.A."

It is now time for passing orders in the matter, as the Assembly will be dissolved in June next and arrangements are in progress for reconstituting it. For the reasons stated above, I am of opinion that the number of seats guaranteed to the Depressed Classes may be raised from three to six. This proposal has been agreed to by the Dewan as
